March and Fight Together Republican Victory's Plea: Cheers and Jeers
Greet Mention of T. R. in Republican Convention: Cheers For Hughes.

By Associated Press.

AUDITORIUM HALL, CHICAGO, June 9.—Without any preliminary announcement Senator William E. Borah entered the Auditorium Hall at 12.10 P. M. where the Progressives were assembled in convention. He was encorted to the platform. A tremendous ovation was given him.

Chairman Robins introduced Senator Borah and the convention roared itself hoarse when the senator said he had not come officially.

"I will say to you frankly," were his first words, "I came over here to get an inspiration."

At once a wave swept over the hall, started no one knew how, suggesting that stronger events than harmony, with Borah as the man to unite the party, might happen. This thought grew as the senator in his speech introduced the magic name of "Roosevelt" as the Progressive's great leader.

"We want Teddy," resounded through the hall and galleries with more vim than at any time since the convention assembled. It was not "cheered" enthusiasm, or if it was, the end had burst from internal compression.

Senator Borah waited quietly and finally Chairman Robins urged quiet.

"It is well known," the deep-voiced affection I have for your leader," he said, and was hailed by another salvo of enthusiasm, the whole convention in a mighty chant shouting, "We want Teddy." For a full minute, while Borah smilingly waited. The shouting lulled and then was renewed, leaders on the stage joining.

"There's no doubt you want Teddy," said Senator Borah.
"We want Borah, too," answered the delegates, and the senator proceeded and swinging into the stride of his speech, which he promised would be brief.

He put a question on the whispered circulation of his name as a possible "Moose" by reminding the Progressive convention that he was present as a member of a committee from "another convention."

"There isn't a doubt that you want Teddy," he continued, "and that millions of citizens throughout the country also want Teddy," he began.

"You are fortunate in having a leader," he continued, "who has done more than any other man to make the issue of this campaign."

"He is a maker of questions involved in this international crisis," the convention responded enthusiastically to the praise of the Colneel.

"But let us bear in mind," he urged,
"what these two conventions do here will perhaps decide the welfare of the United States for the next quarter of a century. We can only insure ourselves by working together in close cooperation. I do not discourage your loyalty to your leader, but I must say it is essential that before we leave this arena, it should be definitely determined that we will march and fight together in this great conflict."

"But if the two conventions agreed upon your great leader, you will find no more enthusiastic supporter than myself."

Senator Borah concluded amid applause and shouts of "Roosevelt and Borah."

DEMONSTRATION FOR T. R.
COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 9.

Soon after 11 o'clock Chairman Harding began bawling his gavel in an effort to call the convention to order, the hall being crowded with more people than at any of the previous sessions.
The response to the efforts of the chairman to bring order out of the confusion was slow but at 11.15 Bishop William McEwell offered the opening prayer.

Senator Stuart read the report of the peace conference as follows:

"To the Republican national convention: Your committee appointed pursuant to the resolution adopted at yesterday's session met in conference with a committee representing the Progressive national convention last evening. The Progressive committee consisted of Messrs. Perkins, Johnson of California; Bonaparte of Maryland; Wilkinson of New York and Parker of Louisiana. The conference was frank and free and most friendly. The conferences were of one mind in believing that the good of the country and perhaps the world, and the influence for years to come depends upon the complete direct of the present Democratic administration and the restoration of the control of the legislative and executive branches of the government to the hands of those who firmly believe in and will execute the policies that are so heartily supported by the Republican and Progressive parties alike."

"The Progressive conference were unanimous in urging with temperate-ness and fairness the opinion that Theodore Roosevelt of New York has so large a personal following and such a close personal relation to the issues of the coming campaign as to make him the most desirable candidate upon which to unite.

"It was agreed that your conference would report these facts to this convention."

When Mr. Stuart came to the announcement that the Progressives had urged that Colonel Roosevelt had the attributes of the most desirable candidate upon which to unite there were applause, cheers and some hisses.

There were cries of "Roosevelt," the jangling of cowbells and more cheers.
Senator Stuart held up his hand for silence but the demonstration coming from different places of the hall and galleries continued.

Cheers marked the announcement that the conference would continue their work. Then came the big business of the convention, the nomination of candidates.

Chairman Harding announced the conference committee would be continued and then announced the roll call of states for nominations was in order.

Arkansas and Alaska passed. Arizona yielded to New York and Governor Whitman of New York was recognized and took the platform to nominate Justice Hughes. There was a demonstration when Whitman mentioned the name of William Howard Taft.

The delegates cheered and for the first time the whole body was on their feet. It was the longest demonstration of the convention.

Governor Whitman concluded at 12.11 with the words, "I nominate as the Republican candidate for President of the United States, Charles Evans Hughes of New York."

The convention broke into an uproar while the band played.

The Hughes men in the New York delegation led the cheering. Other delegates from the "favorite son" states for the most part kept their seats. The cheers were general on the floors and galleries for 20 minutes.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler took the platform to offer the name of Elihu Root. When he closed a demonstration for Root began. The cheering in the New York delegation was led by former Secretary Stimson. Many of the delegates who had cheered for Justice Hughes a few minutes previously cheered just as loudly for Mr.
Root.

Arkansas yielded to Ohio and Governor Willis named Senator Burton.

FIRST BALLOT AT 4.

CHICAGO, June 9.—Chairman Harding of the Republican convention said today that the Republicans would follow their regular procedure when the session is called to order and that balloting probably would be reached at long by 4 o'clock of this afternoon.

"The first business of today," said the chairman, "will be the presentation of the names of candidates followed by several hours of speeches. I think we ought to get to balloting by 4 o'clock, but I can't guarantee that."

The chairman said he knew nothing about the report of the Republican members of the peace conference committee.

"But," he said, "that report is privileged, and can be submitted at any time."

Delegates to the Republican and Progressive national convention reassembled at the Coliseum and the Auditorium facing a situation unprecedented in recent American political party history. The Progressives met at 10 o'clock and the Republicans resumed their deliberations at 11.

After 56 hours of continuous rain there was hope today that the clouds had emptied themselves.

The sky was still a menacing gray, however, and the heat the weather man would promise was "unusually with probable showers."

Umbrellas were furled for the first time since the convention began last Wednesday and expressions of relief were general.

PLATFORM ADOPTED.

AUDITORIUM, CHICAGO, June 9.
It was 10.25 when Chairman Robins called the Progressive national convention to order and the opening prayer was given by Rabbi Joseph Sinz. Chairman Robins brought the platform before the convention at 10.45 as the unfinished business.

Dean Lewis read the platform, section by section, each being acted upon as offered. The Progressive peace conference entered the hall at 11.30 to a loud hurst of cheering and made its report as follows:

"The conference was most friendly, immediately upon assembling your committee proposed as the joint nominee of both conventions, the name of Theodore Roosevelt. The committee representing the Republican national convention did not present the name of any candidate nor did it attempt to refute our arguments relating to the unique availability of Theodore Roosevelt as a candidate to unite both parties or to serve our common country at this crucial period on the history of the world."

"After several hours of friendly discussion during which no concrete proposition was advanced by the Republican conference except that a further conference might be desirable this afternoon or evening the joint committee adjourned."

CRAWFORD SCHOOL
TO BE COMPLETED
IN EIGHT MONTHS*School Board Wanted Five and Contractor Nine but Eight Agreed Upon.*THE CONTRACT IS SIGNED UP

George Schenck & Company of Butler to Start at Once: Bond in Sum of Full Amount of Contract Price to be Furnished; Board Discusses Bricks.

Eight months were given George Schenck & Company to complete the new Crawford school building by School Board last night. February 8 is the date set for turning over the structure to the district. This time may be shortened, however, if conditions are favorable.

In the original contract November 15 was fixed as the date for completion of the building, but Contractor Schenck, who was present at the meeting, objected to this. It is so hard to get shipments of material, and labor conditions are so uncertain, he said, that five months was too short a time in which to complete the work. He asked nine months, but finally agreed to eight.

As an evidence of the uncertainties of the contracting business, Mr.
Schenck told of starting a cellar for a big building in Butler six weeks ago, which because of various delays, is not yet completed.

Mr. Schenck signed the contract and it was duly executed by officers of School Board. He will furnish bond in the sum of $45,000, the full amount of the contract price, with the Butler Savings & Trust Company as surety.

Mr. Schenck told members of the board that he would start work on the building as soon as the site is completely cleared. All of the old Seventh street building has not yet been taken away and until it is, nothing can be done on the new structure. Mr. Schenck asked about the supply of water to the building and suggested that the heating plant be installed before cold weather so that he can finish the interior work uninterrupted.

The contract is the uniform form used in all such jobs. It provides that the contractor shall be paid 90 per cent of the work completed each month, upon the certificate of the architect, and final payment is to be made within 30 days after the completion of the contract. In case of disputes not settled by contractor and architect, each is to select an arbitrator and the two are to choose a third, the three to compose a board of arbitration. The contractor is to maintain insurance on the structure from the time it will be accepted as a risk.

After closing up the contract the board discussed bricks and three companies submitted prices. The board was in the old Fourth street building and the two are to choose a third, the three to compose a board of arbitration. The contractor is to maintain insurance on the structure
from the time it will be accepted as a risk.

A plumbing agent also addressed the board regarding his line.
Only four members were present at the meeting. For a while it appeared that there would be no quorum, only Directors Davidson, Hetzel and Raisley being on hand. Mr. Ward was finally ferreted by telephone and immediately came around.

We favor this continuance of Republican policy, which will result in drawing more and more closely the commercial, financial and social relations between this country and the countries of Latin-America.

We renew our allegiance to the Philippine policy, inaugurated by McKinley, approved by Congress and constituted sacred by the Roosevelt and Taft. Even in this short time it has enormously improved the material and social conditions of the islands, giving the Philippine people a constantly increasing participation in their government. And it persisted in, will bring still greater benefits in the future.

We accepted the responsibility of the islands as a duty to civilization, and the Filipino people. To leave with our task half done, would break our pledges, injure our prestige among nations and imperil what has already been accomplished.

We condemn the Democratic administration for its attempt to abandon the Philippines, which was prevented only by the vigorous opposition of Republican members of Congress, aided by a few patriotic Democrats.

We reiterate our unqualified approval of the action taken in December, 1911, by the President and Congress to secure with Russia with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation and prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens whether native born or alien, and refrain from religious or previous political affiliations. We renew the pledge to observe this principle and to maintain the right of asylum which is neither to be surrendered nor restricted, and we write in the cherished hope that the war which is now desolating the world may speedily and with complete and lasting restoration of brotherhood among the nations of the rights, civil and religious to all men

SELF DEFENSE IS PLEA SET UP BY DAN PLUMBO

Defense Springs Surprise by Admitting Accused Man Stabbed Joe Conteen.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, June 9.—Donato Palumbo, indicted under the name of Dan Plumbo for the killing of Joe Conteen, a Frick league baseball player, in Main street, Uniontown on March 15, went on the witness stand today in his own defense, attempting to justify the stabbing of Conteen by the allegation of self-defense. District Attorney S. John Morris closed the case for the commonwealth this forenoon.

Attorney L. B. Brownfield opened the case for the defendant, addressing the jury. He sprang a surprise when he admitted that Plumbo had admitted and declared that the stabbing would be justified by the law of self-preservation, that of self-defense. It was expected by both the commonwealth and the spectators who have watched the case since it was started that the defense would allege that Conteen died in the Uniontown Hospital from the effects of drinking ice water from the ice bag the day before he died.

The defense expects to prove that on Saturday night, March 15, according to Attorney Brownfield, Conteen bribeed at Plumbo, saying, "I am going to kill you." Plumbo then pulled out his pocket knife and struck Conteen in self defense.

Mike Shovoran and Stefan Kruljak charges of assault and battery, aggravated assault and battery and unlawful cutting.

Boro Tolowich, convicted of working the "pickpocket game" on a local workhouse by Judge J. Q. Van Swear-sentence from the workhouse to the penitentiary. Judge Van Swearingen did not change the sentence.

GERMANS LAUNCH BOLT.

Direct General Attack on Entire Front Along the Meuse.

By Associated Press.

PARIS, June 9.—The Germans have launched a general attack along the entire front on the right bank of the Meuse and have penetrated the French line at one point, but were repulsed elsewhere with heavy loss, according to an official statement issued by the war office today.

The point where the Germans en-borhood of Triaumont farm. The Germans also made two small attacks southwest of Hill 304, but these attacks were repulsed.

WOOD BLOCK FOR MAIN STREET PART
OF PAVING PLANS*Councilman Duggan Urges
Them in Preference to Brick for a Surface.*WILL LAY A CONDUIT, ALSO

Head of Street Department Determined to Tie Up City's Funds in a Municipal Investment of Doubtful Merit;
Other Streets Are to be Paved.

Council is preparing for an extensive paving campaign this summer and expects to take action on some of the contracts at the next meeting. One of the most important jobs the council is anxious to have done is the repaving of Main street, between the Vough bridge and Brimstone Corner.
Other streets to be bricked are Race street, the extension of Merrell avenue, Ninth street between Marietta avenue and Main street, First street, and Murphy avenue.

The most important job is the repaving of Main street. Here the conduit system will be installed when the old bricks are taken out. The wires between the bridge and Pittsburgh street will be placed underground.
Councilman John Duggan is determined to tie up the city's funds in this experiment in municipal ownership that has proven costly for other communities.

It has been suggested by Councilman Duggan that wood blocks be used for paving on this section.

"This style of a surface would cost more than bricks, but would present a much cleaner and quieter street," said Councilman Duggan. "If the property owners on this part of Main street are willing to stand a little more expense, we will have the blocks put in." Mr. Duggan said that if possible council will have the work start by September 1.

"The work is going to be done even if we have to use short term bonds to get the funds."

As soon as the rails are laid on Race street by the West Penn Railways Company, Duggan & Miller, who were awarded the contract two years ago will begin the paving work there.

A bid is in for the paving of Ninth street, having been submitted some time ago by Contractor J. I. Dick, but the contract was never awarded.
Council is satisfied with the price made by the contractor and if a resolution to pave that part of the street is passed he can begin work on it immediately.

The other streets are still being discussed by the councilmen, no contracts having ever been awarded for any of them.

There will be general disappointment if the plans of council do not include the repaving of Main street on the West Side, and the improvement of the same street on the Fin-pache. Both sections of this street, the main thoroughfare through town, are in miserable condition.

"Every visitor who travels through town in an automobile uses Main street. Nine out of ten never see any other street at all. Connellsville is being judged by hundreds of people just from the condition of Main street.
Olive pride, and feeling that should express the best of our conditions," is the way one man put it.

READY TO PAVE

Washington Avenue From Arch to Pittsburgh Street to be Bricked.

Contractor J. I. Dick will begin the bricking of Washington avenue from Arch to Pittsburgh streets early next week. The stone foundation is laid and the slabs are being put down.

Washington avenue will be completed in sections. The area from Pittsburgh street north cannot be completed until the West Penn puts in new rails at the intersection of Race street.

struction will be given tonight.

State Factory Inspector James S.
Darr explained to The Courier today, that he had not given his official approval to the condition of the amusement devices at Shady Grove Park, but had only expressed his personal belief that they were in good condition. Mr. Darr's duties, he says, do not cover amusement parks.

"I went to Shady Grove after the school people to convince myself that things were not in a dangerous condition," he explained. "It is very likely that the state will assign a special agent to look over the plant there. So far as I could determine there is nothing wrong about the toller coaster. The ladders seem to be in good condition. This is only my personal opinion, however, and not an official expression."

No Meeting.
A meeting of the Business & Professional Men's Association, called for last night, did not materialize for lack of a quorum.

Tyrone Board to Meet.
The regular meeting of the Lower Tyrone township school board will be held tomorrow afternoon at the Hulttown school.

BRYAN'S METHODS IN DEPARTMENT OF STATE DENOUNCED

Former Secretary Is Assailed for Lowering Standard of Service.

APPOINTMENTS ARE POLITICAL

Safeguards Instituted by Roosevelt to Insure the Merit System Flagrantly Ignored Until Sentiment Is Aroused: Deception Then Used.

Special to The Courier.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—Some of the ways which former Secretary of State Bryan found to take care of "deserving Democrats" were brought out during the discussion in the House of Representatives of the diplomatic and consular appointments bill which was passed yesterday. Representative Rogers, Republican of Massachusetts, pointed out how Mr. Bryan got around the executive order of former President Roosevelt placing the consular service on a merit basis.

"With the arrival in the State Department of Mr. William Jennings Bryan," said Mr. Rogers, "Bryan was naturally felt for the laxity of the consular service and especially for the strict continuance of the merit system. To the surprise of all, for substantially a year Mr. Bryan kept his hands off the consular service. It was not until February 10, 1914, that we had the first executive order making appointment to the consular service without regard to the executive order of 1907."

Mr. Rogers called attention to the fact that from the time President Roosevelt issued his executive order in 1906 which put the consular service on a merit system, down to 1914, "not a single consul was appointed except in accordance with the provisions of the executive order of 1907."

But after Mr. Bryan got started in February, 1914, breaking through this order, which technically was permissible, executive orders followed at monthly intervals for six months. By that time, said Mr. Rogers, a good deal of publicity had been stirred up over the matter, "and it was apparently deemed feasible not for the sake of the service but for political reasons—to suspend further issuance."

Then, said Mr. Rogers, the former Secretary of State devised "a new and ingenious scheme which avoided both publicity and the necessity of executive order." This was by using a provision which allowed him to place in the consular service any person in the service of the Department of State getting $2,000 or more. It was the intention of the provision, Mr. Rogers explained, that it should be utilized only in favor of men who had originally entered the department under civil service rules, and this requirement had been insisted upon without exception on the infrequent occasions when it was invoked prior to Mr. Bryan's incumbency.

"The fertile mind of Mr. Bryan, however, detected in it an opportunity to take care of a stray 'deserving Democrat,'" said Mr. Rogers. "Let me illustrate: He appointed one Calvin M. Hitch, who had been for years a prominent wheel-horse in Georgia politics, assistant chief of the division of Latin-American affairs, at a salary of $3,000. He then, on February 22, 1915, applied the above provision of the executive order of 1906 and appointed Mr. Hitch consul of class 5, at a salary of $4,000. Mr. Hitch is now consul at Nottingham."

"While the action was no doubt a technical compliance with the provision of the executive order, it was as gross and flagrant a violation of the spirit of the order as could be imagined. It is probably fair to say that every man in the consular service, excepting Mr. Hitch himself, resents and deprecates the prostitution of the executive order of 1906 to the political exigencies of the unlamented Secretary of State."

CARNIVAL CASES

Concession and Band Men Figure in Aldermen's Courts.

W. J. Barnes, a member of the carnival band, today brought a labor claim for $5 against John Singlehook, leader of the band and conductor of a shooting gallery. The latter claims he does not owe the money.

Bert W. Little and W. J. Driscoll, two carnival concession men, got into trouble this week and as a result Driscoll preferred a charge of carrying concealed weapons and surety against Little. The prosecutor alleges that Little had a revolver and a blackjack but neither were found on him when arrested by Constable Charles Wilson. The charge was withdrawn when the case came up for a hearing before Alderman Fred Munk and the defendant paid the costs.

100 YEARS WILL EXHAUST COAL IN PITTSBURG FIELD

Including Pittsburg, Freeport and Kittanning Seams.

PREDICTION OF AN EXPERT

Present Basis of 100,000,000 Tons Annual Production Means the Exhaustion of 12,000 Acres Per Year Will Continually and Gradually Increase.

The conclusion drawn from data recently compiled by D. F. Hoffacker, relating to the coal deposits of the Pittsburg district, is that the supply will be exhausted in less than 100 years, if the present rate of mining is continued from year to year. In making this estimate of the life of the coal measures the Pittsburg, Freeport and Kittanning seams are included as the sources of production.

The area embraced is not confined to that territory from which coal is shipped under the Pittsburg freight rate, but taken in all the territory underlain with the Pittsburg coal in Allegheny, Fayette, Greene, Washington and Westmoreland counties and including the Connellsville coke region east of the Fayette Anticline and the Allegheny river mining district. All the mines in the territory described figure in the recorded production, irrespective of the coal seam worked. More than 90 per cent. of this production is from the Pittsburg bed of coal, known the world over as a gas, coking, steam or domestic fuel, and now highly regarded by by-product coke manufacturers.

By competent geologists and experts it has been estimated that at the beginning of 1908 there were remaining of the Pittsburg coal in Pennsylvania 1,000,000 acres, and all but from 10,000 to 20,000 acres were included in the Pittsburg district as above defined. In the Allegheny river section there are some 30,000 acres of high grade Freeport coal, together with possibly the same amount of the Kittanning measures, thinner and of less importance. On the basis of 100,000,000 tons annual production this means an exhaustion of practically 12,000 acres of coal per year; or there is remaining within the Pittsburg district less than one hundred years' supply of Pittsburg, Freeport and Kittanning coals as at present developed.

In 1845, the year following the completion of slackwater improvement to Brownsville, the river shipments of coal amounted to almost 200,000 tons. In 1885 they had increased to 3,250,000 tons. Now they are at the rate of 13,000,000 tons annually by river alone. Accurate statistics of coal production in the several counties of the Pittsburg district are not available of an earlier date than 1901. During that year the production in Allegheny, Fayette, Greene, Washington and Westmoreland counties totaled 48,529,264 tons. In 1914 it reached 101,565,131 tons. For 1915 it is estimated that the production will fall somewhat short of 1914, but still be in excess of 100,000,000 tons.

Mr. Hoffacker predicts that production within the Pittsburg district will continue to increase, and while it will fall from 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 tons in periods of depression there will be a continual increase from the present rate of production.

In 1914 there were employed in the 562 mines of the Pittsburg district, including all coke workers, 87,120 men inside and 19,717 men outside, a total of 106,837 men. This gave a total annual production of slightly over 800 tons per man for both inside and outside employees, and fell just short of 1,000 tons per annum per inside employee.

COMPENSATION AWARDS $742,662 IN FIVE MONTHS

Fatalities Number 862, Resulting in 537 Widows Being Widowed and 1,109 Children Made Fatherless.

During the first five months operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act 862 men were killed in the industrial establishments of the state. By these accidents 537 women have been made widows; 1,109 children made fatherless and 37 dependent parents deprived of a breadwinner. The total number of compensable accidents reported during this period was 28,531.

Of the claims filed for compensation 230 have been adjusted involving the payment of $742,662.75, being an average of $3,229.84 per case. The awards will be paid in installments during the coming years, and do not include the cost of medical attendance or compensation in non-fatal cases. When all the compensation claims have been met the total awards for fatalities will approximate $1,500,000.

When it is understood that if the compensation law were not in force, less than ten per cent. of the fatalities could have been made the basis of successful suits for damages, it can be realized what the compensation law means to the widows and children of the men who have lost their lives.

That compensation benefits principally the men of modest wages is indicated by the data which shows that the average weekly wage of the 862 men killed was $14.86, or a total annual pay roll of $666,884.64.

More than half of the total number of workers killed were Americans. The division by nationalities is as follows: Americans, 438; Italians, 111; Polish, 92; Slavish, 65; Austrians, 61; Russians, 49; Hungarians, 19; Germans, 9; Swedes, 6; Greeks, 5; Croatians, 5; Assyrians, 4; Bulgarians, 3; French Canadians, 2; Spaniards, 1.

The majority of the fatalities occurred in mines. The division by occupations is: Miners, 375; laborers, 187; iron and steel workers, 157; railroad employees, 119; clerks, 7; firemen, 5; salesmen, 5; civil engineers, 1; policemen, 1; motorists, 1; teachers, 1; carpenters, 1.

NEW ORE RECORD

Is Made By May's Shipments to the Lake Superior Region.

The Daily Iron Trade reports that Lake Superior iron ore shipments in May established a brand new record, being 8,449,550 tons. This was 3,437,221 tons more than removed in May last year; 1,165,368 tons more than removed in 1913 and 2,368,222 tons more than removed in May, 1910, all of which were record shipments for that month in their particular years.

The new May record of 8,449,550 tons compares with the previous high mark of 8,204,416 tons removed in July, 1913.

The Lake Superior ore shipment to June 1 of the present year was 10,107,991 tons, an increase of 4,891,799 tons over the corresponding period last year—and an increase of 1,967,392 tons over the movement to June 1, 1913, which was the banner year in the history of the Lake Superior ore trade. The total ore movement for 1913 was 49,070,478 tons.

If shipments during the remainder of the present season equal those of 1913, the total movement for 1916 will be in excess of 51,000,000 tons.

SURPLUS COMPENSATION FUND

To Provide for Catastrophe Hazard to Be Created.

In the opinion given to State Treasurer Robert K. Young, chairman of the State Workmen's Insurance Fund, Deputy Attorney General William H. Koller, holds that the board must set aside 5 per cent. of all premiums collected to insurance in the state fund, for the creation of a surplus until the surplus amounts to $100,000, but that it also has authority to set aside more than 5 per cent. for the surplus fund until it reaches $100,000. This surplus fund is to cover what is known as the catastrophe hazard of all subscribers to the fund and to guarantee the solvency of the fund.

The Deputy Attorney General also holds that after the surplus fund amounts to $100,000, the board may, at its discretion, set aside 5 per cent. of the premiums collected for the purpose of maintaining the surplus fund.

NOT PLEASED THE NEWS.
"Bitter disappointment is evidently in store for our contemporary if it does not soon succeed in unearthing something that will send all members of the Board of Education to the 'Chain Gang,'" says our contemporary, 'The News.'

We are finding it rather difficult to please 'The News' lately. We differ radically in politics, to begin with, and will perhaps long continue to do so unless good Republicans continue to absorb stock in the publishing company which is responsible for the present appearance of the Democratic organ of the Young Men.

'The News' has a reckless habit of misquoting and trying to misrepresent our attitude on all local interests. Not long since it thought we should have rushed to the defense of the hospital nurse who permitted the feet of a patient to be buried by hot water bags, because, forsooth, the editor is a trustee. Then again it seemed to think we should have pinned more strike news about the West Penn when there was no such news. The Courier looked the union issue squarely in the face and spoke about it honestly. We are now accused of having the School Board because we cannot always agree with everything the directors do in connection with their new building operations.

The Courier has always expressed its views freely, but it has never hated anybody for not adopting them. Our views of public matters have not always been free from error, but we have been free from guile in writing them. We have at all times endeavored to serve the public interests faithfully. At the same time we have always expressed ourselves frankly, our constituency seeming to require that at our hands.

The opinions of some newspapers do not seem to have any impression upon the people and such are likely to think that their contemporaries talk too much and too often.

This is no time to split hairs over old points of Republican doctrine or to 'blast upon the anvil of a mad dog' new and untried experiments as part of the platform. The Republican party stands for some great principles which the country sorely needs to have applied to its affairs by a friendly hand. In fact, the world has come out for a restoration of the Republican rule at Washington and it is not going to be popular to oppose that demand.

Four years ago the Progressive split from the party because the title of some of the delegates in the Republican National Convention was alleged to be not regular. Where did the Perkins and Johnson Convention get on?

There are formal applications for the registration jobs, but nobody is trying to stop him out of them.

The Gray's Landing negro conducted a second time for enticing little children for immoral purposes. He had needed a second trial had he lived in the South. The children were of foreign extraction, but he does not seem to be aware of the fact that black brute has demonstrated that he is unable to be at large in any community where innocence is to be preserved. If not then for such a number of years as will probably find him thinking of other things when his sentence is served.

Connellsville will have its Chautauque in August. The time is reasonable. Beach cars will no doubt stop at the door.

The bathing season at South Connellsville beach has not yet begun, but when it does it is to be hoped that the bath house accommodations will have been enlarged and improved, so that nobody will have to take to the woods.

Shady Grove passed state inspection where some solid brick walls were condemned. Perhaps the association of Shady Grove are such as to elude from inspection better than plain school houses.

The Conference pastor who married his choir leader now has the materials for an evangelistic combination.

Perryopolis has raised the money necessary to erect her proposed temperance hotel. Perryopolis will doubtless have its temperance hotel, and there is no reason why it should not succeed. Careful management will do the trick.

The President's Acid Test promises to become popular.

The Grand Old Party has some Great Old Boys still attending the conventions and voting the ticket.

Chauncey Dewey didn't dance a clog and Joe Cannon refrained from turning a handstand, but if these things are necessary to insure success the old boys will do them.

It looks like a stiff game of bluff at Chicago.

The Christian Endeavorers are all past graduate Christians. They are endeavoring to make Christians out of others. They have a great moral force behind their pastor.

The News says we are against the School Board. The directors have no better friend than the Courier, but it does give friendly advice occasionally.

It is better to have a number of 'Favorite Sons' in an unbroken convention than a Prepared State in controlled convention.

Whatever may be said of the Chicago convention the public will not agree with the statement of some of the Progressive leaders that themselves and their principles were not treated with fairness and consideration in fact the Republican candidates and platform will be found to be fairer than those of the Democrats.

Governor Humbaugh has not yet been named as anybody's residuary legatee.

Looking Backward

News of the Past Condensed from the Files of The Courier.

FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1895.

Of the 10,322 votes in the coke region 10,455 were in blast and 377 idle. Shipments averaged 500 cars, distributed as follows: West of Pittsburgh, 480 cars; to Pittsburgh and rivers, 200 cars; to Connelville, 250 cars. The independent producers 500 cars.

A slight frost is noticeable by early place in several neighboring localities. Cuckumbers have begun to double up the population. The contractor is on the ground with outfit to begin moving the public school building to its new foundation. The school board has been organized, including both men and boys, are counted lining the banks of the Young near the suspension bridge one afternoon. Dr. S. Stull is granted a patent on a cigarette belt devised to hold cigarettes by a snap-like clip. Congressmen are to be nominated at the Fayette primaries by a vote of 1 to 1. Other Democratic nominees are: T. H. Schuchter for state senator; L. B. Johnson, Hugh C. Stillwagon and A. J. Stewart for assembly; S. H. Long, Edward and D. M. Hertzog, district attorney.

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

Corn is called king in a good many states, but this is saying a great deal too much for the king himself. Kings are all right in their way, but no king has kept 30,000,000 people fat and happy by his own unaided efforts, or has stuck to his job for so many four hours a day through a long, hot summer. When a king does his subjects good, a respectful tear and then send for the undertaker's wagon and a coffin, to put down the crown to the next king but when corn turns yellow and black and gray and expires before the harvest, half a great nation mourns for a whole year and refuses to buy new clothes, and cuts off the subscription to the local newspapers and votes against the administration with great firmness and bitterness.

Corn is relied on as a food by millions of farmers, but is not absorbed directly by the American people in any great quantities. It is used largely to feed hogs and cattle. A small red pig, if allowed to eat a crib of corn, will produce enough ham and breakfast food to keep a family fat and financially hustled for three months, and a thin cow with a backbone like the ridge pole of a cathedral can no longer be sold by eating corn for a few months that the packer will make her for a silver dollar and sell her for forty cents a pound.

Corn is planted in the spring and grows up like a small boy in a new suit of clothes. By July it is five feet high and going up faster than an English elevator, and by September each stalk is a young man with a four-foot head waving from it like banners. Rival staves love to impress each other with the height of their cornstalks, but Illinois holds the record. A Central Illinois farmer once told his horse to when he came back he had to chase the horse up the stalk for two hours with a climbing iron in order to untie him. In October the ears of corn are yellow and ripe and the farmer harvests them by striking off the rough husks, yanking out the ear and tossing it into a wagon provided with a baseball back-stop on one side. This is a hard work and eventually develops a thumb like a horse's. An amateur can husk a bushel of corn before getting a new pair of hands, but an expert can husk 100 bushels a day in the field and over 200 bushels a day in front of the village grocery store.

Illinois produces over 375,000,000 bushels of corn a year. There are many forms of bliss, but none more potent than to own 5,000 bushels of corn in the crib and to sit in front of the postoffice, whittling a pine stick and letting the price go up two cents a day.

Democrats Should Worry.
Monogamists Times.
The views of some Democratic papers that Republicans are worrying over the Chicago convention is a cheap wrong rumor. The worry about that convention is all on the part of Democrats who are afraid it won't make some blunder.

Consistent Woman, Bless Her.
Wheeling Intelligencer.
Mildred wants to furs in the summer and the open threat in winter, which is consistently inconsistent of her.

A Plea for Republicans.
Johnstown Leader.
If the Democratic state platform is an indication of what the party is going to say for itself and against the Republican party in its national declaration, Republican spellbinders are going to have a picnic this year.

And Victory in Front of Him.
Latrobe Advance.
The one thing that seems to be growing more definite however, is that whoever the candidate may be, he will lead a united party behind him.

The Union Supply Company Preparedness Sale

The Union Supply Company is always prepared to furnish any kind of merchandise its trade demands. But during this second week of June we have made special preparations to furnish lines of summer washable goods for women, misses and children's wear. A special sale will be going on during this entire week, starting Monday morning. It is time for making up the summer clothing. We never showed such a complete variety of washable goods. We have chevrons, madras, percales, ginghams, all grades of linens, waistings of all descriptions, etc., suitable for suits, skirts, shirtwaists, for children's dresses, and for babies' dresses. The best part of this preparedness is the fact that these lines of goods are being sold at about the same prices they were sold a year ago. Early buying accounts for this. We prepared for you the advance in price; we prepared for you. You are getting the benefit of our judgment. Every woman in the coke region and in the surrounding towns should arrange to visit a Union Supply Company store this week and take advantage of the special sales in these lines.

WOMEN'S STOMACH TROUBLES

The Great Woman's Medicine Often Just What Is Needed.

We are so used to thinking of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a remedy exclusively for female ailments that we are apt to overlook the fact that it is one of the best remedies for disorders of the stomach.

For stomach trouble of women it is especially adapted, as it works in complete harmony with the female organism, since it contains the extracts of the best tonic roots and herbs. It tones up the digestive system, and increases the appetite and strength. Here is what one woman writes showing what this medicine does:—

Newfield, N. Y.—"I am so pleased to say I can recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as an economical and beneficial remedy in most ailments pertaining to women. At least I found it so by only taking two bottles. I had indigestion in a bad form and I am now feeling in the best of health and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. BURE WILLIAMS, R. D. No. 29, Newfield, N. Y.

Many women suffer from that "all gone feeling" and "feel so faint," while doing their work. Ten chances to one their digestive system is all out of order. A tablespoonful of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after each meal should completely remedy this condition in a few days.

POLLY AND HER PALS—Yes, Ashur Staked O. D. Riferous.—By Cliff Sterrett.

IRON ORE OUTPUT OF 1915 INCREASED 14,000,000 TONS

The Highest Record Made In Any Year Except in 1910 and 1914.

VALUED AT OVER $100,000,000

Lake Superior District Mined 52% of the Total Production for 1915. Likely to be 5,000,000 Tons Larger With Price About 75 Cents Per Ton Higher

The iron ore mined in the United States in 1915 reached the great total of 55,528,490 tons, the greatest output made in any year except 1910 and 1914. The shipments in 1915, namely 25,493,109 gross tons, valued at $101,253,984, were a little less than the quantity mined. The quantity mined in 1915 was an increase of 14,000,000 tons over the output in 1914. The increase in quantity and in value of iron ore shipped amounted to about 10 and 11 per cent, respectively. The average value per ton in 1915 was $1.83, compared with $1.81 in 1914. These figures, which are just made public by the United States Geological Survey, were prepared by E. F. Burdard, who states that the production of iron ore from the Lake Superior district alone in 1915 will possibly be 26,000,000 tons, and that there will probably be an increase in price of 75 to 76 cents a ton for this ore.

Iron ore was mined in 27 states in 1914 and 23 in 1915. Three of these states, Idaho, Nevada, and Utah, produced small quantities of ore for metallurgical use only; part of the production from California and Colorado was for smelter flux and part for pig iron and ferroalloys; the remaining states produced iron ore for blast furnace use only except small quantities for paint from Georgia, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. Five states, Minnesota, Michigan, Alabama, Wisconsin, and New York, which have in recent years produced the largest quantities of iron ore, occupy in 1915 their accustomed places. Only one of these states, New York, produced less than 1,000,000 tons in 1915.

The production by states in 1915 was as follows:

State	Tons
Minnesota	23,011,000
Michigan	12,111,500
Alabama	2,500,000
Wisconsin	1,000,000
New York	900,000
Wyoming	451,500
New Jersey	112,200
Pennsylvania	300,000
Virginia	218,000
Tennessee	201,000
Georgia	112,700
North Carolina	106,100
Missouri	400,200
New Mexico	31,900
Maryland	5,000
Idaho	2,000
Nevada	2,000
Utah	5,100
California	815
Other States	22,000

Total production in 1915 was 55,528,490 tons. The principal iron-mining districts in the United States, except the Adirondack district, are Interstate, and statistics of production by districts are of more interest and importance than statistics by States. The Lake Superior district mined nearly 55 per cent of the total ore in 1915 and the Birmingham district about 8.5 per cent, or a little more than one-tenth as much as the Lake district. None of the other districts mined as much as 1,000,000 tons. The increase in production in 1915 was especially marked in the Lake Superior district, where it reached 49 per cent; the Adirondack and Chattanooga districts each showed a large increase, namely, 28 and 35 per cent respectively; the total for a number of widely separated districts, including those in the western States, showed a decrease as compared with 1914.

By mining districts the production in 1915 was as follows:

District	Tons
Lake Superior	30,511,251
Birmingham	4,785,200
Chattanooga	4,800,000
Adirondack	600,200
Northern New Jersey	141,400
Other Districts	1,000,000

Total production in 1915 was 55,528,490 tons. All the ranges in the Lake Superior district mined a larger quantity of iron ore in 1915 than in 1914, the largest increases having been in the Mesabi and Cuyuna ranges—56 and 41 per cent respectively. There were 7 mines that produced more than 1,000,000 tons of iron ore each in 1915, 2 more than in 1914.

The apparent consumption of iron ore was 56,236,055 gross tons in 1915, compared with 49,833,448 gross tons in 1914, an increase of nearly 70 per cent. The ratio of pig iron produced to iron ore consumed was 62.15 per cent in 1915 compared with 67.16 per cent in 1914.

The production of pig iron, including ferroalloys, was 29,016,213 gross tons in 1915, compared with 23,372,244 gross tons in 1914, an increase of 24 per cent. The pig iron, exclusive of ferroalloys, sold or used in 1915, was 29,381,186 gross tons, valued at $101,409,694, a gain of 36 per cent in quantity and 24 per cent in value. The average price per ton at furnaces in 1915 was $3.21, compared with $3.42 in 1914. At the close of the year, however, prices of pig iron had advanced 35 to 40 per cent.

AT THE GLOBE.

"THE CODE OF MARCIA GRAY."—Starring Constance Collier, is the attraction today at the Globe. This Morosco film deals with the story of a man who was caught in the giant nippers of financial hazard. The jaws of the Great Patch, taking a chance, crushed him. The wife of Marcia who is wrongly blamed by the husband she stands by, is played by Constance Collier, playing the starring part and reflects her vast European stage experience. A real is in store for those who appreciate a beautifully photographed as well as strongly acted film drama. In the scenes showing the magnificently mansion and stuccoed entrance hall of the Gray's mansion and the superbly appointed drawing room, the fittings and furniture are exactly the same as in the costliest homes in America. These interesting features are brought out clearly in their true values by the excellence of the camera work. The many scenes of the beautiful out-door views, of the palatial Gray mansion, of the garden, of the sumptuous banquet scene and the scenes overlooking the Pacific Ocean from the gardens are all wonderful examples of photography and show as well the truly artistic eye possessed by the director. The abundant sunshine gives a stereoscopic effect of the beautiful settings. The banquet served in "The Code of Marcia Gray" was a full course dinner and that the food immediately will be of interest and will dispel skepticism. The appointments and service were exactly as they would be in a society leaders' home. Monday, Mahol Tallifero will be seen in "The Snow Bird," a five part Metro production. The story of "The Snow Bird" is laid in the picturesque Hudson Bay district and Miss Tallifero has an exceptional role which gives her full opportunity to display her marvelous versatility.

THE JUNE BRIDE.
Should Have a Bank Account and Save a Part of Family Income.

When people begin housekeeping, the bank account should be a part of the plan. A part of all income should be placed in a savings account where the money will be safe and earn interest. The Citizens National Bank, 138 North Pittsburgh street, invites newly married people to open savings accounts.

Special Demonstration.
The Liberator Coffee Company of Baltimore, Md., will have three expertly trained demonstrators at the Connelville Market Saturday to demonstrate Carolina Belle Coffee and to show the people of Connelville and vicinity just why this popular coffee is so far superior to all other brands. Carolina Belle Coffee was introduced in Connelville some time ago by the Connelville Market and met with such instant popularity that the Market at once secured the exclusive right to its sale in this territory. If you are not using Carolina Belle Coffee you will, of course, be interested in knowing just what it is that gives it that exceptional fine flavor; if you are not using it, by all means attend this demonstration and learn what real coffee tastes like.

Bowel Complaints in India.
In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. Obtainable everywhere.

MRS. JAMES S. BRADDOCK, SISTER OF FRICK, IS DEAD

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, June 9.—Mrs. James S. Braddock, wife of the prominent capitalist and coal operator of this place, and a sister of Henry Clay Frick, died this morning at her home here. Although Mrs. Braddock had not been in good health for some time past, her friends had not suspected that her condition was so serious, and the fact that she had been out recently as Tuesday caused the news of her demise to come as a great shock.

Mrs. Braddock was active in the social and civic affairs of this community. She was a lifelong member of the Baptist Church and took an active part in the affairs of its various societies. As a member of the Civic Club, the Ladies' Needle Guild, the Friendly Society and other organizations she was enabled to carry out her charity work, in which she was particularly interested. She was a leading spirit in the most important feminine movements of the community.

The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from the home. She will be buried in Mount Pleasant.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Braddock is survived by the following children: Mrs. E. T. Stevenson, Franklin; and Miss Elizabeth Braddock, Homer F., and Howard F. Braddock at home. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Henry Clay Frick, New York; Edgway and Anton Frick, Mrs. W. A. Lott and Mrs. J. R. S. Overholt, Wooster, Ohio.

FILLING IN HOLLOW

East Park Addition Hole Is Being Filled by Street Commissioner.

Street Commissioner William McCormick has started the filling in of the hollow beneath the East Park bridge. The dirt being removed from Mountain alley in the grading of that street by the chain gang is being dumped beneath the viaduct near the east end.

Commissioner McCormick has made a trap door in the flooring of the bridge and when a car drives over it the boards will drop and dump the dirt through. This practice has been going on for a few days and "Bill" is pleased with the "stunt," which makes the filling of the hollow considerably easier.

MAY GET INCREASE.

The police are still wondering what council intends to do about the raise in wages recently asked for. The police request an increase of $10 a month from council but were given no answer, of this appropriation would not be met.

Since then two meetings have been held by the officers in regard to council's delay of action. One member of that body said today that he would be willing to compromise and give the men a $5 increase if there was any way to get enough money into the appropriation. The license paid by the carnival is suggested as part of the fund necessary to have on hand to make the increase.

mean party believes in encouraging American business as it believes in and will seek to advance all American interests.

RURAL CREDIT.
We favor an effective system of rural credit as opposed to the ineffective law proposed by the present Democratic administration.

RURAL PRICE DELIVERY.
We favor the extension of the rural price delivery system and condemn the Democratic administration for carting and carting it.

MERCHANT MARINE.
In view of the policies adopted by all the maritime nations to encourage their shipping interests and in order to enable us to compete with them for the ocean-carrying trade, we favor the payment to ships engaged in the foreign trade of liberal compensation for services actually rendered in carrying the mails, and such further legislation as will build up an adequate American merchant marine and give the government in time of national emergency.

TRANSPORTATION.
We are utterly opposed to the government ownership of vessels as proposed by the Democratic party, because government-owned ships while effectively preventing the development of the American merchant marine by private capital, will be entirely unable to provide for the vast volume of American freight, and will leave us more helpless than ever in the hand grip of foreign syndicates.

ECONOMY AND NATIONAL BUDGET.
The increasing cost of the national government and the need for the greatest economy in its expenditures in order to meet the growing demands of the people for government service call for the restoration of the national budget, the repeal of the present Democratic administration, of its wasteful appropriations, of its shameful raids on the treasury, and of its opposition to and rejection of President Taft's re-organized proposals and earnest efforts to secure economy and efficiency through the establishment of a simple business-like budget system to which we pledge our support and which we held to be necessary to effect a real reform in the administration of national affairs.

CONSERVATION.
We believe in a careful husbandry of all the natural resources of the nation—a husbandry which means development without waste; use without abuse.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.
The civil service law has always been sustained by the Republican party, and we renew our repeated declaration that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever necessary. The Democratic party has created since March 4, 1913, 30,000 offices outside of the civil service law at an annual cost of $14,000,000 to the taxpayers of the country.

TERRITORIAL OFFICIALS.
Reaffirming the attitude long maintained by the Republican party, we hold that officials appointed to administer the government of any territory should be bona-fide residents of the territory in which their duties are to be performed.

LABOR LAWS.
We pledge the Republican party to the faithful enforcement of all federal laws passed for the protection of labor. We favor vocational education, the enactment and rigid enforcement of a federal child labor law, the enactment of a generous and comprehensive workmen's compensation law, within the commerce power of Congress, and an accident compensation law covering all government employees. We favor collection and collation under the direction of the Department of Labor of complete data relating to industrial accidents for the information of Congress, to the end that such legislation may be adopted as may be calculated to secure the safety, conservation and protection of labor from the dangers incident to industry and transportation.

The Republican party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people for the people, as a means of justice to one-half the adult people of this country favors the extension of the suffrage to women, but recognizes the right of each state to settle this question for itself.

Such are the principles, such are our purposes and policies. We close as we began. The times are dangerous and the future is fraught with peril. The great issues of the day have been confused by words and phrases. The American spirit which made the country and saved the Union, has been forgotten by those charged with the responsibility of power. We appeal to all Americans, whether naturalized or native born, to prove to the world that we are Americans in thought and in deed, with one loyalty, one hope, one aspiration. We call on all Americans to be true to the spirit of America, to the great traditions of their common country and above all things to keep the faith.

NEW RECORDS HUNG UP AT MANY FIELD MEETS THIS YEAR

Comparison of the Results Show Athletes' Marks Differ but Very Little.

EVEN BREAK IN LONG RACES

Eastern College Men Excel in High and Broad Jump; Ted Meredith's New Mark for the Quarter Mile Will Not Stand as the World's Record

NEW YORK, June 9.—Exceptional performances have been the rule in meets during the season which closed with the Western Conference games at Chicago on June 3. New records were frequent not only from the various association, state points, but national and international as well. Meredith, of Pennsylvania; Shannon of Missouri; Murray of California; Diamond of Chicago; Mucke of Wisconsin and several others starred during the spring in the role of record breakers.

With this unusual collection of athletes, from the Pacific coast, East and Middle West, competing, a comparison of the results at the championship meets is of more than ordinary interest. A triangular contest between the winners of the Pacific, Western and Eastern, little games would produce such close finishes that any forecast of the result would be at best mere guessing. This is clearly shown by a comparison of the times or distances of the winners in the intercollegiate and conference games held respectively on May 27 at Cambridge, Mass., and June 3 at Chicago, Ill. The situation is further complicated by the fact that Michigan, a Middle Western university, was represented at the Eastern meet while the Pacific Coast was represented at both games.

Smith of Michigan and his name-mate from Wisconsin won the "hundred" in 10 1/2 flat at the eastern and western meets respectively. In the 220, Moore of Princeton and Smith of Wisconsin also tied so far as time is concerned with 21 3/5. A third tie occurred in the 440, Meredith of Penn.
and Diamond both running the quarter in 17 3/5, a new world's record for a race around one turn. The first break in the series of ties is found in the 880 which Meredith won at Cambridge in 1m 55s while Scott of Missouri A. C. was a fifth of a second slower at Evanston.

An even break of honors occurred in the longer distance races. Wind-hurdle of Cornell winning the intercollegiate title in 1m 10s, to Musson's Conference victory in 4m 29 1/5s.
Stout of Chicago was faster in the two mile than Potted of Cornell, the respective times being 12m 20s and 12m 25s. Potter of 23 3/5s. The East was entirely outclassed in the hurdle races. Murray of California won the intercollegiate event with 13s for the 120 and 21 1/5s for the 220 while Shannon of Missouri won over the high hurdles in 11 3/5s and the low in 25 4/5s.

In the high and broad jumps the tables were reversed as Ole of Yale cleared the bar at Cambridge at 5 feet 2 1/4 inches, while Fisher of Chicago leaped 6 feet 1 1/2 inches at the Conference games. Worthington of Harvard, broad jumped 21 feet 4 1/2 inches at the Eastern contest. Potted of Illinois, doing 23 feet 1 1/2 inch in the West.
Foss of Cornell, was eight inches better in the pole vault than the quartet of vaulters who tied at 12 feet in the Conference event. Goldensleeve of California, won both the Eastern and Western hammer throwing competitions with throws of 155 feet 1 inch and 163 feet 8 inches, respectively.
Liveredge of California took the intercollegiate shot-put title with a put of 46 feet 2 1/2 inches and also won the Conference event with 47 feet 5 inches but was disqualified upon a eligibility rule and the first place awarded to Mucke of Wisconsin with a put of 45 feet 8 inches.

Incidentally it can be stated upon good authority that Ted Meredith's 440 yards record of 47 3/5s will not displace Maxey Long's figures of 47 4-5s on the Amateur Athletic Union record lists. When the season's record-breaking performances are considered at the annual meeting of the A.
U. C. in late November, Meredith will be credited with a record for the quarter around one turn, whereas Long's figures will stand as the best for a two-turn course. The same will hold good in the case of Wang Dimond, the University of Chicago sprinter, who tied Meredith's time a week later. This distinction is made in view of the fact that in the A. U. championship races to be held at Newark, N. J., in September, a quarter mile race with a 220 yards straightaway on one side similar to the Cambridge and Evanston tracks will be used, which will give but one turn in the quarter and three in the half mile.

IN OTHER COKE MARKETS

Little Activity Shown at Buffalo; By-Product Strong at Chicago.

The Coal Trade Journal says the Buffalo coke market shows little activity and supplies in consumers' hands are apparently large enough to carry them along for the present.
Prices are holding about steady at $5.10 to $5.25 for 72-hour Connellsville foundry; $3.75 to $3.95 for 48-hour furnace; $3.60 to $3.70 for stock coke.

In Chicago the by-product coke market says The Black Diamond, in quite strong as has been previously quoted. The June circular on by-product coke is $4.70 f. o. b. Chicago, but this is a nominal price, since most of the orders are asking and getting from $4.95 to $5.20. The other prices remain as they have been.

down and wanted to get up, the pain was so great. I had tried a well-known kidney medicine but it didn't help me.
I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anurie Tablets so I thought I would try them. I took only one box of the Tablets, and my back is now free from pain and I can work and take care of my family. I feel I cannot say enough for this medicine. Sincerely, Mrs. Wm. KELLER.

NOTE: This "Anurie" is adapted especially for kidney complaints and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine and urinary troubles. The physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's great Institution, at Buffalo, N. Y., have thoroughly tested this prescription and have been with one accord successful in eradicating these troubles, and in most cases absolutely curing the diseased kidneys.
Patients having once used "Anurie," at Dr. Pierce's Invalid Hotel, have repeatedly sent back for more. Such a demand has been created that Dr. Pierce has decided to put "Anurie" in the drug stores of this country, in a ready-to-use form. If not obtainable send our circle by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package or 50 cents for full treatment.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood purifier and alternative that cleans the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to make "ch, red blood, which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body.
You feel clean, strong and strenuous.

Catcher Rariden Has Done Brilliant Work For the Giants

MUCH credit must be handed to Catcher Bill Rariden of the Giants for his splendid work behind the bat this season. William has had much to do with the brilliant showing of several of the New York pitchers.
He has handled them all in masterly style. Not alone has he done well behind the bat, but his all around playing has been exceptionally good.
Manager Johnny McGraw says that there are few catchers in the National league who have anything on the former Bostonian. Layout shows two views of Rariden.

"In consequence, David Massingale finds himself in a fair way to become a broken man by the simplest of commercial processes. The bank holds his notes, which will presently have to be paid. If he can't pay, the bank closes."

Brouillard Hurled Himself With an Oath Upon Young Cortwright.

back on you as his lodger, and you fall back on your mortgage and take the mine. Isn't that about the size of it?"

"It is exactly the size of it. I do want the 'Little Susan' and I've got a good friend or two in the Red Butte smelters who will help me get it."

Brouillard's black eyes were snapping, but his voice was quite steady when he said: "Thank you. That brings us down to the mention of the Cornelia grant and Stephen Massingale's threat—which your son can't remember."

"Right," said Mr. Cortwright, still with predetermined geniality. "What was the threat?"

"I don't know, but the guessing list is open to everybody. There was once a grant of many square miles of mountain and desert somewhere in this region made to one Don Esteban de Montarbo Corouida. Like those of most of the great Spanish land grants, the boundaries of this one were loosely described and—"

Mr. Cortwright held up a fat hand. "I know what you're going to say. But we went into all that at Washington before we ever invested a single dollar in this valley. As you may or may not know, the reclamation service bureau tried to choke us out. But when it came down to brass tacks, they lacked a witness. We may be in the bed of your proposed lake, but we're safely on Cornelia land."

"So you say," said Brouillard quietly, "and on the strength of that you have been guaranteeing titles. Just there is where Massingale comes in, I imagine. He has spent twenty years or more in this region, and he knows every landmark in it. What if he should be able to put a lighted match to your pile of kindling, Mr. Cortwright?"

The promoter pulled himself erect with a grip on either arm of the chair. "Brouillard, do you know what you are talking about?" he demanded.

"No; it is only a guess. But as matters stand—with your son indictable for an attempted murder—"

"If I were you, Mr. Cortwright, I believe I'd give David Massingale a chance to pay those notes at the bank."

"And let him blackmail me? Not in a month of Sundays, Brouillard! Let him sell his ore and pay the notes if he can. If he can't, I'll take the mine."

"All right," said the visitor placidly. "You asked, and I've answered. Now let's come to something more vital to both of us. There is a pretty persistent rumor on the street that you and your associates succeeded in getting a resolution through both houses of congress at the last session, appointing a committee to investigate this Cornelia claim right here on the ground. Nobody seems to have any definite details, and it possibly hasn't occurred to anyone that congress hasn't been in session since Mirapolis was born. But that doesn't matter. The committee is coming; you have engaged rooms for it here in Bongrae. You are expecting the private-car special next week."

"Well," said the magnate. "You're a pretty good kindergartner. But what of it?"

"Oh, nothing. Only I think you might have taken me in on the little side play. What if I had gone about town contradicting the rumor?"

"Why should you? It's true. The congressional party will be here next week, and nobody has made any secret of it."

"Still, I might have been taken in," persisted Brouillard suavely. "You'll surely want to give me my instructions a little beforehand, won't you? Just think how easily things might get tangled. Suppose I should say to somebody—"

"Gunner, for example—that the town was hugely mistaken; that no congressional committee had ever been appointed; that these gentlemen who are about to visit us are mere complaisant friends of yours, coming as your guests, on a junketing trip at your expense. Wouldn't that be rather awkward?"

The mayor of Mirapolis brought his hands together, set in pain, and for a fitting instant the young engineer saw in the face of the father the same expression that he had seen in the face of the son when Van Bruce Cortwright was struggling for a second chance to kill a man.

"Damn you!" said the magnate savagely. "You always know too much! You're bargaining with me!"

"Well, you have bargained with me, first, last and all the time," was the cool retort. "On each occasion I have had my price, and you have paid it. Now you are going to pay it again. Shall I go over to the Spotlight office and tell Harlan what I know?"

"You can't bluff me that way," Brouillard, and you ought to sense it by this time. Do you suppose I don't know how you are fixed—that you've got money—money that you used to say you owed somebody else—tied up in Mirapolis investments?"

Brouillard rose and buttoned his coat. "There is one weak link in your chain, Mr. Cortwright," he said evenly; "you don't know men. Put on your coat and come over to Harlan's office with me. It will take just about two minutes to satisfy you that I'm not bluffing."

For a moment it appeared that the offer was to be accepted. But when he had one arm in a coat sleeve, Brouillard's antagonist in the guise of hardihood changed his tactics.

"Forgot it," he growled morosely. "What do you want this time?"

"I want you to send a wire to Red Butte telling the smelter people that you will be glad to have them handle the 'Little Susan' ore."

"And if I do?"

"If you do, two things otherwise due to happen adversely will go over to your side of the market. I'll agree to keep out of the way of the sham Washington delegation, and I think I can promise that Harlan won't make a scorching of the facts concerning the Cornelia land titles."

Mr. Cortwright thrust the other arm into the remaining coat sleeve and smiled. But the rebound to the norm of brusque good nature came almost immediately.

"You are improving wonderfully, Brouillard, and that's no joke. I have a large respect for a man who can outbid me in my own corner. You ought to be in business—and you will be, some time. I'll send the wire, but I warn you in advance that I can't make the smelter people take Massingale's ore if they don't want to. All I can do is to give the old man a free field."

"That is all he will ask—all I'll ask, except one small personal favor: Don't rub your masquerading Washington delegation into me too hard. A fine quality of noninterference is about all you are buying from me."

"Tell me one thing, Brouillard: What is your stake in the Massingale game? Are you a silent partner in the 'Little Susan'?"

"No."

"Then why are you so anxious to make old David a rich man at my expense? Are you going to marry the girl?"

The engineer did not resent the question as he would have resented it a few weeks earlier. Instead he smiled and said: "A little while ago, Mr. Cortwright, I told you that you didn't know men; now I'll add that you don't know women."

We put it up to Hundreds of Dentists

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleansing quality and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested Senreco from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said:

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen." "I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used." "I can recommend Senreco as the best." "Makes the teeth clean and is free from injurious ingredients, including purgatives." "I am indeed glad to get a tooth paste that does the work." "Congratulations you on formulating a dentifrice that gives one a new idea of mouth cleanliness, etc." (These quotations are from the dentists' reports. Originals on file at our office.)

SHIVELY AVERS HS HAS GAINED 3 MORE POUNDS

"Why It Has Restored My Health so Perfectly That It Seems a Miracle."

"Yes sir, this Tanlac beats anything I have ever before used," declared P. P. Shively, a well-known salesman who lives at 1007 Third St., Juniata, Pa.

"I had no idea it was so good. Why, it has restored my health so perfectly that it seems more like a miracle than anything else."

"I had suffered from stomach trouble. My digestion was all out of sorts. I couldn't eat. Whenever I did try to take anything solid I would suffer from gas on my stomach and a sickening feeling that lasted for several hours afterward."

"My nerves were also out of gear, and I couldn't sleep sound and restful at night. I would wake up in the morning feeling heavy and languid, and I could scarcely muster up enough energy to get up and dress myself. I seldom ever could eat breakfast."

"After using two bottles of Tanlac my stomach seems in perfect shape. I can eat good and never sleep better in all my life. My weight has been increased three pounds by Tanlac. I simply can't get enough to eat now."

"Tanlac is now sold in Connelville exclusively by The Connelville Drug Co., where the premier preparation can be had."

"Tanlac can also be secured in Dunbar at D. C. Mason's Drug Store—Adv."
